

Vote for schools referendum a vote for community

Slugline Letter----McClain--school-bonding-issue-

PublicationHerald-Whig

Date October 05, 2014

Section(s) Opinions

Page Letter----McClain--school-bonding-issue-

Byline

Brief To The Herald-Whig: The Quincy Public School's "Rebuilding" referendum is about our community. As long-time active volunteers in the Quincy public and parochial education arena, we feel strongly about supporting the referendum. The Qui ...

To The Herald-Whig: The Quincy Public School's "Rebuilding" referendum is about our community. As long-time active volunteers in the Quincy public and parochial education arena, we feel strongly about supporting the referendum. The Quincy Public Schools and the Catholic/Christian schools compete. Yes -- they compete in academics, athletics, fine arts, enrollment and retention. This competition is good in each category. Our kids live, play and compete together. Mutual respect for the potential and success of every student is a huge source of pride for all Quincyans. Solid, vibrant school systems -- public, Catholic and Christian -- are good for our community and region. The schools are key to attracting economic development and good jobs. A 21st century set of public school buildings will further enhance the quality of our public education. Together we make the community stronger for all of us. So, let us talk frankly. We all need each other. We all need to support one another. We are told the referendum will not increase our property tax rate. In our opinion, a "yes" vote is your endorsement for our community. Please vote "yes"! We are one community. Mike and Cinda McClain Quincy